PREFACE

WITH the publication of the present volume, for 1919-20, American Book Prices Current enters upon the second quarter-century of its career. The beginning of the new era sets a high-water mark for sales, and an examination of the records contained in the new volume will reveal tendencies auguring well for the future of the American rare book market. Prices were high and showed a tendency to stabilization, owing to a greatly widened appreciation of the opportunities offered by the season's sales.

The preparation of the volume for 1919-20 was fraught with unexpected difficulties. The year produced an unusual number of sales, widely varied in range, and rich in unique items. When the laborious task of selection and cataloguing was nearing its close, a printers' strike intervened, delaying publication for several months.

The season opened September 30th, 1919, with the sale of Part IV of the library of the late General Henry W. Closson, Part V being sold in November. This was followed on October 15th by the sale of a portion of the dramatic collection of the late Evert Jansen Wendell. Mr. Wendell was the most devoted, discriminating, and generous of American dramatic collectors, and the lists of the contents of his unrivalled treasure house offered, besides theatrical items of the highest importance, an unexpectedly rich collection of rare tracts and other Americana, these often being duplicated to an amazing extent. One rare pamphlet of which only two were supposedly printed had three examples in the sale. Another heretofore rare item was represented by 102 examples, while the History of the American Stage had no less than 39 sets of the two volumes offered. Such duplication being unique caused a curious situation in the matter of prices, and in most instances the first copy brought the lowest price, while its brother, which sold last, brought the highest. The catalogue formed six thick volumes, Part I containing a number of tributes to Mr. Wendell, that of Mr. Owen Wister being an especially charming appreciation of this sterling American. October 22nd brought the final sale of the Rodney collection, which contained an unrivalled garner of Colonial material. On October 20th was also sold the collection of Mr. Frederick H. Evans, of London Bookshop fame, which contained many interesting reminders of the literary London of the eighteenth-nineties.

On November 17th Part I of the library of Mr. Henry F. De Puy was offered for sale. A collection of Jesuit Relations, mainly first issues, and many in the original vellum bindings, brought $19,000.00. The collection of Indian Treaties is said to be the most complete ever offered for sale. In November was sold Mr. George Hellman's collection of Stevensoniana, containing 93 items, of which 51 were unpublished. Important autographic and association material was also listed, the amount realized approximating $6,900.00. Mr. Hellman's collection of material relating to Andrew Johnson was also sold, these letters and books bringing $1,760.00. This was the most important material pertaining to a President ever offered for sale. About the same time Part III of Mr. Gunther's collection of Americana was sold.

A notable sale was that of the late Mr. Samuel P. Avery, on November 10th. This collection was especially rich in illuminated MSS. and magnificent bindings. A remarkably beautiful Book of Hours brought $4,350.00.

The following year, 1920, began auspiciously with the sale of the collection of the late Mr. Theodore L. DeVinne, in six sessions, beginning January 12th. These items were of peculiar interest to the bibliophile, as they offered a suggestively varied list of unique and distinguished specimens of typography, acquired or reproduced under the eye of a master-printer. Of equal interest were the sales, in January and May, of Parts XI and XII of duplicates from the library of Mr. Henry E. Huntington.

February was a month of unusual opportunities for the collector of Americana. There was offered on February 17th the remarkable aggregation of works by Cotton and Increase Mather, brought together by Mr. F. W. Fabyan; on February 24th the association books from the library of John Greenleaf Whittier; and on February 17th many interesting inscribed first editions and autographs from the collections of Mr. P. K. Foley and Mr. Fabyan.

March 15th brought the sale of Part I of the collection of the late H. Buxton Forman. This sale yielded several items of the highest importance. Among them may be cited the sale of the first edition of Shelley's "Œdipus Tyrannis" for $6,100.00, his own copy of the first edition of "Queen Mab" for $6,000.00, and his "Posthumous Fragments of Margaret Nicholson" with his A.L.S., for $6,750.00, while the Manuscript of his "Julian and Maddalo" brought $16,250.00. A first edition of Robert Browning's "Pauline" sold for $2,560.00.

A sale of extreme interest was that of Mr. Walter Thomas Wallace's collection, which took place during four days beginning March 22nd. Here the Lapham copy of "The Pickwick Papers" reappeared, selling for $3,500.00. An item of wide appeal was a copy of the first edition of the "Imitatio Christi," bringing $1,800.00, while Charles Lamb's "Poetry for Children" brought $3,300.00. This collection rivalled that of Mr. Avery in the number of beautiful bindings, among which was a volume from the library of Jean Grolier, the "Acta . . . Constantiensis Concilii," the Hoe copy, which, selling for $1,550.00 in 1911, now realized $1,950.00.

On April 23rd the extensive collection of the works and manuscripts of Oscar Wilde formed by Mr. John B. Stetson, Jr., came upon the market, a collection so nearly exhaustive that its catalogue proved to be a wellnigh complete bibliography of Wilde's writings. In the autographic material was included a series of letters to Lord Alfred Douglas which sold as a single item for $7,900.00.

Part I of the stock of the late George D. Smith was sold in May, 1920. Mr. Smith undoubtedly contributed more interest to the book-auction rooms and to the appreciation of book values than any other man in the history of book-auction sales.

A sale which aroused wide and sympathetic interest was held on May 10th, when there was offered a collection formed by Dr. Frank O'Brien of the publications of the late firm of Beadle and Adams. The once-despised "Dime Novel" and "Story Weekly" came brilliantly into the limelight of mature interest, and their sale produced unexpectedly large sums. The new value of these and similar publications is based on the knowledge of their genuine value as a factor in a new phase of Americana: that connected with the social and political history of the West. We feel that this is but the first suggestion of the future collector's appreciation of these remarkable books. We would be glad to enlarge upon their many virtues if it had not already been adequately done by Mr. Irvin Cobb.

A phase of the market which, while far from new, showed unexpected activity was that of autographs and manuscripts. Some of the season's highest prices were paid for autographic items. Besides the Shelley manuscript, "Julian and Maddalo," already referred to, the same sale offered the Manuscript of Poe's "The Spectacles," which brought $9,100.00. At the Conway sale, on June 7th, the manuscript of Kipling's first "Jungle Story" brought $4,000.00. Mr. Stan. V. Henkels of Philadelphia sold the manuscript of Charles Lamb's "Dissertation Upon a Roast Pig" for the sum of $12,600.00, that of "Pope's Essay on Man" for $5,500.00, and brought the season to a brilliant close by offering, on July 1, a volume containing two signatures of Thomas Lynch, Signer of the Declaration of Independence, which brought $3,000.00. The Lynch signature is extremely rare, and one eagerly sought by collectors, and its appearance in the auction-room was an event of paramount importance to collectors of Americana.

Of especial interest to bibliographers was the sale for $1,550.00 of the manuscript of the late Mr. L. H. Chubbuck's unfinished bibliography of English authors and illustrators of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Incomplete though it was, it contained much new and hitherto unavailable material.

One of the most encouraging and significant features of a season of hitherto unparalleled prices was a definite evidence of the growing stability of book-values. The high prices were not "freak" prices, but a normal increase of values already recognized—a view confirmed by the excellent prices brought by Association items. Moreover, there was a strong and healthy tendency toward a decisive appreciation of the new literary figures. First editions of the newer writers brought unexpectedly good prices. Kipling items sold well, and a set of Masfield first editions brought $540.00. The Whitman values were well maintained, and the George Bernard Shaw items showed a marked increase in price. First editions of Wells, Conrad, and many others confirmed the general upward trend of the market.

However, the most significant feature of the season of 1919-20 appears to be the widening of the field of Americana. While there is no lessening of interest in the standard New England and Colonial material, there has arisen a growing interest in books and manuscripts dealing with the history and topography of the entire Western section of our country. Travels, surveys, maps, memoirs, and personal narratives, all found so large and generous a circle of buyers, as to suggest the further cultivation of a field not only of fascinating interest, but of great historical importance. Moreover, it would appear that the recent yield is but the outcropping of a vein rich beyond all present imaginings.

When the fullness and variety of the season's offerings are carefully considered, it will be seen that the preparation of the present catalogue entailed an unusual amount of labor. A comparison of the sales-lists under a single letter with the corresponding lists for the preceding year showed the increase in the number of entries to be nearly 100%, and an even greater increase in the number of high-priced items. Even after it was decided to exclude all book-items below the value of $5.00 there remained to be selected from the total 80,346 lots listed in 109 sales, the 14,034 books chosen for our catalogue. We have in general preferred to list as many new titles as possible, choosing to record new and rare items rather than to duplicate prices. We have also, whenever possible, listed original bindings in preference to re-bound copies, those in slip cases, or with an excess of inserted material.

Of the remaining 752 items listed under "Broad-sides" and "Autographs," we have been obliged to exclude many broad-sides of lesser value, as well as autographic items selling under $50.00, save in a few instances where their intrinsic interest or rarity compelled their inclusion.

We announce with regret the retirement from the auction business of the well-known firm of Charles F. Libbie, of Boston.

As the volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the work, the following explanation of the abbreviations used and of the scheme of the work is reprinted from the earlier issues.

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first part of the title) is set in black-faced capitals.

Club or Press publications are (generally) under the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are entered under their subject. The title of the various works of an author, printed in black-faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the place where printed, the printer (in a few cases), the date, and the size of the volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work. Following this general description is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded, if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.

Third. The name of the sale, where a name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. Capital letter, indicating the name of the auctioneer under whose management the sale took place.

A. is the Anderson Galleries.

B. is Charles F. Heartman.

G. is the American Art Association.

H. is Stan. V. Henkels.

L. is Charles F. Libbie and Company.

W. is the Walpole Galleries.

Fifth. The date of the sale. In case of the sales of more than a single day's duration, this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price for the lot, not per volume.
